

Media: Home Team News
Date: Friday, 1 February 2019
Headline: A Hub With Heart

SPECIAL REPORT

Launch of ISCOS iCosy Hub

A Hub with Heart

SPS Amrin Amin launched the iCosy Hub, a dedicated space for ex-offenders offered by ISCOS (the Industrial & Services Co-Operative Society Ltd), on 25 January.

Every year, ISCOS welcomes about 800 to 1,000 new members who seek employment assistance, skills upgrading or support groups. Located along Alexandra Road, iCosy Hub consists of a tele-visit space, children's corner and interview rooms to better support ex-offenders and their families.

At the launch, ex-offender Jabez Koh explained how ISCOS has helped him in his reintegration journey.

As an ISCOS Titan, Jabez now shares his transformative life story with inmates, at-risk youths and students.

"Five years ago, following my release from prison, ISCOS helped me get my first job. Now, I have my own business where I can hire ex-offenders. From beneficiary to Titan, I'm working hand-in-hand with ISCOS!" – Jabez Koh, ISCOS Titan

Text:

Special Report: Launch of ISCOS iCosy Hub A Hub With Heart

SPS Amrin Amin launched the iCosy Hub, a dedicated space for ex-offenders offered by ISCOS (the Industrial & Services Co-Operative Society Ltd), on 25 January.

Every year, ISCOS welcomes about 800 to 1,000 new members who seek employment assistance, skills upgrading or support groups. Located along Alexandra Road, iCosy Hub consists of a tele-visit space, children's corner and interview rooms to better support ex-offenders and their families.

At the launch, ex-offender Jabez Koh explained how ISCOS has helped him in his reintegration journey.

As an ISCOS Titan, Jabez now shares his transformative life story with inmates, at-risk youths and students.

"Five years ago, following my release from prison, ISCOS helped me get my first job. Now, I have my own business where I can hire ex-offenders. From beneficiary to Titan, I'm working hand-in-hand with ISCOS!" – Jabez Koh, ISCOS Titan